Things Coming to a Head. London, August 29.—The Times' Peking correspondent, in a telegram, says that we are within a measurable time of events in the Far East which will compel the attention of the world. Januar presented at St. Petersburg, on the 12th metant, proposals for a modus viv-endi, requiring reciprocal recognition or re-spective rights of the two Powers in Manchuria and Korea. If the scorn ul attitude of the Russians in the Fac East towards Japanese preten-sions reflects the opinion of the authorities at St. Petersburg, there can be little ex-pectation of an amicable settlement.

Insurance Frauds.

August 19.—John Grant, a director, and Benjamin Arthur Blackhurst, the secretary f the Star Fire and Burgiary Insurance Company of Glasgow, have been sentenced to twelve months and nine months imprisonment respectively, at Edinburgh, for fraud. The accused, it was proved, had promoted and started the Company with a capital of £6. They accepted large risks and by false representations, made it appear that the Company had a guarantee fund of £70,000.

Lord Northcote's Departure from Bombay. Bombay, September 3.—Lord and Lady Northcote, whose departure is much regretted, left Poona to-day for Bombay, in order to leave India by Saturday's mail

Their departure was marked by a tremendous public demonstration. The station was gorgeously decorated.

To-night Lord Northcote has been entertained to dioner at Bombay. In the course of a long farewell speech he alluded to the trials through which the Presidency had passed; the devotion of the officials; and the help of the people.

Steamer Blown up. London, September 3.—The steamer Vaskapu, from Varna, to Constantinople, has been blown up in the Black Sea.
Three formidable explosions took place, apparently on the deck. The captain, officers, and six of the crew, and a number of passengers, were killed. Altogether twenty-nine perished.

Later.—The blowing up of the steamer Vaskapu in the Black Sea is generally ascribed to the revolutionaries, though the object is not clear, because it only exasperates European opinion against them. Arms and Ammunition for the Experiments. August 19. - Latterly, a series of experiments have been tried by the French Navy with guns of heavy calibre, to test the capability of the gun turrets of French battleships, and of the gunners to stand the shock consequent upon the firing of big projectiles by an enemy.

The warship Massena fired a succession of shells at the turret of the battleship *Suffron,' with the result that it was prac-tically uninjured, while some sheep that were confined inside the turret for purposesof the experiment, were unhurt by the

His Lordship stated that the plaintiffs and delendant were partners in Bismarck and Co., a firm carrying on business in Hongkong and Port Arthur. At the end of last year a fire occurred in the promises at Port Arthur and the insurance company or companies paid over $115,000. The the Hongkong business and that de- lad from earning a few cash for his daily fendant should take the Port Arthur broad. The police would confer a great branch. Then the question arose as to how-much defendent should pay for the Port Arthur business. They could not come to terms and a telegram was sent to the agent at Port Arthur asking him to state the full value of the business there, In due course a telegram returned, a ating, Landed property. After setting off outstanding debts amount on current accounts $6800. Total estimated amount in Port Arthur and Dalny $37,000.' Un the face of that telegram the parties took it that that was the value of the property and further negotiations were made upon it. It was arranged that the defendant should pay $20,000 for the Port Arthur property. Apparently some $16,000 were pad in cash or some other way, and according to plaintiffs the balance was to be paid in promissory notes, one of which was the subject of the action. That was the plaintiffe' story. Now, the defendant stated that he did not sign pro-Tong the exact amount of $1000, being capa verbal condition that payment was not to be made until the accounts in the Port Arthur business had been inspected. The plaintiffs denied that and he (the Judge) thought he might as well dispose of the point at once, and say that it was a most dangerous thing to import a verbal agreement into documentary matters upon the unsupported evidence of one party. It was distinctly agreed that the term should be one month in which repayment should be made. The defendant denied that it was on the document that he signed, and stated that it was put in afterwards. It was rather an invidious thing for a European to offer an opinion upon Chinese handwriting, but he had to do it. The only way that he could explain the lightness of the ink in places was that the pen got empty at that particular moment He would also like to remark that in the early part of the case the documents were described by the defendant in his affidavit as promissory notes, and it was only later on that he found out that they were acknowledgments of indebtedness. There were two reasons why he could not conceive that these should be forgories. If the same man was going to make additions it seemed to him that he would have been a fool if he did not try to keep the writing closer, and if the time had been altered why was it not made payment on demand instead of a month hence? With regard to the telegram his opinion was that it was sent with the intention of stating that the assets were worth $37,300. and he had a strong suspicion that the highway robbery in Hongkong is a disgrace letter was invented for the purpose of the present case.
